WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6

It is strange but true that public grafts do not require any set season of year to thrive well.

The fellows who are trying to invent the stopperless bottle should turn their attention to Port Arthur.

The main trouble with the Louisville Post seems to be that in this glorious spring time, as usual, the Sapp is risen.

A KENTUCKIAN will sometimes admit that he is wrong, but he does not want it understood that in so doing he is taking water.

It is said that all paper money has bacillus staphylococcus on it. But we have long since ceased to get scared at microbes or big names.

Doo meat is being fed to the Filipinos at St. Louis by their own special request. And thus does the sausage trust seem linked to a terrible calamity.

The Chicago Tribune says it is a mistake to suppose that the Japanese are a grammarless people. As proof, reference is given to their active verb, Togo.

MR. BRYAN'S continued insistence upon the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform is causing discussion among Democrats and doing harm to the party he professes to love so well.

The Louisville newspapers are complaining that since the Ohio river floods, their drinking water is so dirty it has to be washed before it is fit for use. Either that, or bite it off by the mouthful.

Our neighbor, the Hartford Republic, is reminded that he who causelessly arraigns one citizen against another, is guilty of inciting a scrap, shiny on your own side! And look out for your shins!

A WASHINGTON special says that the State War and Navy department buildings are swarming with live opossums. You couldn't expect anything else after the discovery of a negro in the National woodpile.

SOME of the politicians are calling Mr. Cleveland the Moses of Democracy. But so far as the Presidency is concerned, we believe the New York statesman is right where the hero of the bullrushes was when the gas gave out.

If you want to live long, come to Ohio county, Kentucky, U. S. A. The record, as published in another column, of fifteen old people, within a radius of nine miles, whose ages range from 80 to 95 years, is, we think, hard to equal in any section of country.

It is said that the Kentucky World's Fair promoters are having considerable trouble in securing national products for exhibition at St. Louis. They can get a large collection of fossils, but the trouble in this is that the railroads persist in charging regular passenger rates for transportation.

AFTER reading the thoughtful, masterly and absolutely unanswerable attack upon our chief executive, contained in an editorial in the last issue of the Hartford Republic, we cannot see how Governor Beckham can continue longer in business. But—who knows? Perhaps the Governor never saw it! Let us all hope that he didn't.

RATHER than have our readers miss anything very important that transpires, we stop the press to chronicle the following cablegram which comes across the pond at great expense:

They Took a Drive.
ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—The Empress and Emperor drove about the city for nearly an hour this afternoon.

Of such is the kingdom of monarchies!

THE pike connecting Beaver Dam with Hartford seems to be an assured fact. The construction is now the problem. It is hoped that it will be made wide enough for all purposes—at least 16 feet. The building of a narrow pike on such a frequently traveled road would be almost like throwing money away. Let us have a good, wide pike. It will last for years and be cheaper in the end.

TWENTY-TWO thousand foreign immigrants arrived at the jumping off place in New York last week. Five thousand eight hundred and sixty-two arrived in one single day. They are coming at this rate all the time. Most of these are the outcasts of other nations—the outscourings of the earth. They are foreign both by practice and instinct to almost every principle of American tradition. What should be done to stem this increasing tide?

MR. W. A. HEINZ was fined twenty thousand dollars for contempt of court by Judge Heatty in the United States Court at Butte, Mont., one day last week. Mr. Heinz is a copper king and his offense consisted of refusing to allow his mines to be examined by the accredited authorities. It is quite probable, however, that Mr. Heinz could have paid his fine out of his vest pocket change and still have a few dollars left.

WHILE the Republican leaders already have their Presidential timber hewn and sawed—a piece, by-the-way, that is very knotty and doesn't fill the niche quite satisfactorily, yet which they feel compelled to accept—still they are at a great loss for a Vice Presidential beam. In this regard they are more in the woods than the Democrats in the hunt for a Presidential piece. It seems to be a place that nobody wants, and therefore nobody is aspiring to it. Strange to say, nobody has been prominently mentioned as a running mate for Teddy. The redoubtable Theodore has the thing all to himself so far, but his partner will likely be flung into the ring at the last minute, with a flourish that is intended to demonstrate the eternal fitness of things. However, the voters will pass upon that.

STILL WANTED.—By the Republican party, a manager or leader—a man of the finest ability. The vacancy is very wide and deep. It can be acceptably filled only by a man who thoroughly understands the needs of his employers. Unlimited cash will be at his disposal, but he must know how to profitably use it. No accounting will be required of him. Come, quickly, some fellow—any fellow who can demonstrate his fitness. No questions asked. No bond required. Just want the work done. Rush at once to Washington and apply in person to T. Roosevelt, after first pulling the elephant's ear—his log after acceptance—for admission.

THE American naval gunner is without doubt a sure shot. He has established a new record for precision which makes him the most wonderful gunner of any navy in the world. Some time ago on the Atlantic coast, a floating barrel was hit at a distance of five miles, and every shot fell within a few yards of this almost invisible speck. In target practice at Pensacola, Fla., last week, one 13-inch gun made six hits out of seven shots in 5 minutes and 20 seconds; an 8-inch gun scored ten hits out of ten shots in 5 minutes, and a 5-inch gun made eighteen hits out of eighteen shots in two minutes. Under a fire like this, Johnnie wouldn't have time to even attempt to get his gun.

It seems to be the practice among some ministers who preach for fashionable city congregations, to do away with fire and brimstone and eternal damnation, eliminate the devil in a great measure and picture hell as a kind of summer resort, rather uncomfortable, but with nothing to regret. They seem to want to let their wicked and rich church members off as easy as possible and make them think they are all right in the sight of God and man. Hell may be the same kind of life we have here, but it would seem that such doctrine as these preachers promulgate, is not only a plain stretch of the imagination, but a broad perversion of bible teachings.

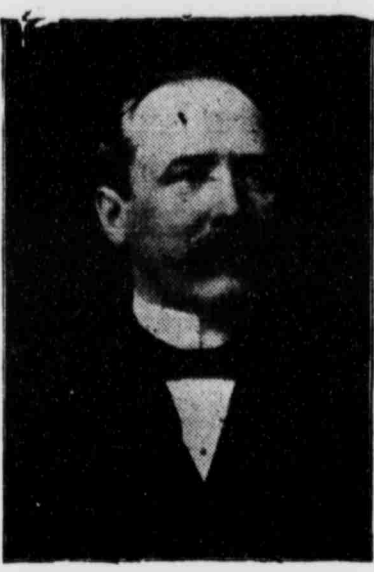

We have no fears but what the choice of the Democrats of Kentucky for the Democratic nomination for President will be intelligently and considerably made. We are quite sure of this point if the politicians will only keep their advice to themselves and let the voters settle the matter. It must not be assumed that the rank and file of the party—generally termed the common people—are ignorant of the requirements necessary for a President. This is not the case in any locality. Fitness, ability and availability should be duly considered in every case, and we have no doubt whatever either of this being done or the result. Kentucky Democrats will act at the proper time and in the proper manner, never fear.

We invite correspondents of THE HERALD to write upon current topics of general interest, for publication in our columns. There are other matters besides personal mention, which make good reading. The needs and demands for improvements for public good, make good topics for discussion. Townspeople and public officials would appreciate the wants and suggestions of the country people. Any suggestion should take into consideration the greatest good for the greatest number. Make your articles short and to the point. Write plainly always, and only on one side of the paper. Ink preferred to pencil. Also give us the news, at all times and under all circumstances. THE HERALD is edited and printed for all the people, and we want to interest them all.

Cleveland Denies the Negro Matter.
RICHMOND, Va., April 4.—Written from Princeton, under date of March 27, former President Grover Cleveland positively denies the stories that the negro Fred Douglas was invited to a reception at his house, and that he, while Governor of New York, approved a bill providing for mixed schools. The letter, which is written in reply to a request for information from William E. Abernethy, of Chase City, Va., says: "My attention has several times been called to the statements of Mr. Thomas E. Watson, to the effect that Fred Douglas was invited to my wedding reception, and further, that while Governor I signed a bill providing for mixed schools. I have already written two or three letters denying these allegations and do not propose to spend any more time denying statements so absurd and emanating from so impossible a source. Each and every one of Mr. Watson's charges if they can be so called, as they have been presented to me, are false. They are about as far from the truth as they can be, and they were made. I have no doubt, without the least reason to believe them to be true, and certainly in a spirit of which even Mr. Watson ought to be ashamed."

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will please to learn that there is at least one dead disease, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials to free of charge. Address: J. C. Pension Proves His Undoing.
KEOKUK, Ia., April 4.—The trial of Charles Cackley for an offense committed thirty-six years ago, commenced today. Cackley shot and killed Constable Reuben Penstemon at Farmington, Ia., July 5, 1868, escaped from jail, and until a short time ago has been at liberty.

CHIEF JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER, OF NEW YORK.
Prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic Nomination for President.

ty. During the interval he married and raised a large family, to whom his crime was not known. Having served in the Civil war, he applied for a pension. His name attracting notice on the pension lists, an officer was sent to Cackley's home at a wood chopper's camp in Southern Missouri. The fugitive was arrested and brought back for trial.

Democracy and Sectionalism.
(New Orleans Tickerman.)
There could be no wider and more unreasonable notion than that a Southern Democrat could be elected President of the United States. The Republican party was started as a sectional organization, and it has constantly continued so. If the sectional bias were taken out of it, there would be no party left. It is nourished on the sentiment that it saved the Union from the attacks of Southern rebels and traitors, and that it has remained and will remain constantly on guard to save the Union from the dangers of Southernism. Of course, a party cannot live on sentiment, and it is further held together by the enormous plunder and patronage not only of the Federal Government, but of all, or practically all, of the Northern State governments, which are absolutely controlled by it.

The Democratic party is, or rather was, from the beginning, a national organization. It held together during the Civil War, and all through the terrible period of the reconstruction infancy of the South, and afterward the Democrats got control of many of the Northern States, and were able to dominate Congress and twice to elect a President. Since then the Democratic party has come under the control of a lot of radical theorists and wild schemers, who so completely wrecked its organization that after they gained supremacy in its councils, there virtually ceased to be a Democratic party in many of the Northern States, and to-day there is not a single Northern Democratic Senator, and but a handful of Northern Democratic Representatives in the Congress of the United States.

As matters now stand, the Democratic party, with its chief strength in the South, may almost be considered a Southern sectional party, so that the idea of putting up a Southern man for the Presidency would be virtually emphasizing the sectionalism of the Democracy. With a Northern Republican sectional party arrayed against a Southern Democratic sectional party, the whole of the Northern sectional sentiment would be re-aroused against the South. It is not to be thought of.

ROCKPORT.
(Special to THE HERALD.)
April 4.—A shooting scrap occurred here Friday night, when Tom Engler, a saloonkeeper, shot and wounded Duke Phelps, of McHenry. The shooting took place about 11 o'clock at night. Just after Mr. Engler had retired, he was awakened by the crashing of glass. He went to the front of his saloon, and as he did so, a rock whizzed past him and a man started down Main street at a rapid gait. Engler ran into the street and fired four shots at the fleeing man, one of which took effect. Engler pursued the man to the home of policeman Telford, and found it to be D. Phelps. He was taken to the home of W. C. Overton and a physician was summoned. The bullet, which had lodged in the thigh, was soon extracted. The man will recover. No arrests have been made.

News has reached Rockport from Beaver of the shooting of Henry Whitehouse by Bryant Wilcox. The shooting resulted from a game of cards, in which Wilcox and Whitehouse were engaged. Whitehouse became offended at Wilcox and cursed him. It is said Wilcox turned so, walked away and Whitehouse followed him several hundred feet. Still Wilcox refused to listen to the enraged youth. Whitehouse finally brought a shotgun into use and shot Wilcox in the back, slightly wounding him. After being shot, Wilcox did not turn, but went home and secured a single-barrel gun and returned to where Whitehouse was and fired the contents of the gun into his body. He then reloaded his weapon and fired a second time, and was preparing to again shoot the youth, but his cries for mercy and the interference of friends prevented a tragedy. Wilcox at once went to Greenville to give himself up, but was not arrested. Wilcox passed through town Saturday, en route to Echols, where his father lives. After his arrival at Echols the father of the wounded man telephoned him that he need not be uneasy as there would be no prosecution, as he thought that he was entirely justified in the shooting.

City Marshal Telford took Tom Decker into custody Saturday on a charge of breach of the peace. His trial took place in the city hall and resulted in a verdict of $30 fine. Decker, after the sentence was passed, was taken to the city lock-up, but was later released on bond.

Mr. H. E. Bartlett, the I. C. agent here, is back at his post of duty again, after an absence of one week at Camden, Tenn., where he was called by the fatal illness of his sister, Mrs. Nannie Bevin, who died Thursday night. Mr. J. E. Williams, of Beaver Dam, filled Mr. Bartlett's place during his absence. Deputy Sheriff Calloway, of Butler county, passed through town last Tuesday, en route to the Hopkinsville Asylum with a man named Whittaker, who had been adjudged a lunatic.

Easter services were conducted at the Presbyterian church Sunday by Rev. Andrews, of Louisville, Ky.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season in local society was the dance given at the opera house April 4. Many out-of-town visitors were present. The story of the Rockport Deposit Bank building has been erected by contractor Broderick, of Central City. The other portion will be finished in the course of a few days.

Mr. Thomas Lothrop has returned from a business trip to Evansville. Mr. Robert Duncan has arrived here from Denver, Col., and is with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. David Duncan.

Miss Ollie Reid was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rowena Wedding, at McHenry, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Reid have returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Rhodes at Rhodes Landing.

Mr. R. T. Her, of Hartford, was here Friday and Saturday on his way to visit his daughter, Mrs. P. Jones, at Ceralvo.

Grayson Matters.
(Leitchfield Gazette.)
Mr. J. A. Anderson has accepted the position of foreman on the Gazette. Mr. Anderson is from Hartford, where he has been for the past ten years as foreman on the Republican and HERALD.

W. H. Coppage and son, Earl, and Jake Feuntun left this week with five head of fine horses which they will put on the fancy market in Louisville. Mr. Coppage expects fancy prices for these horses and will probably realize $300 or $400 per head.

Mr. Frank N. Landrum, of Olaton, was in town last Saturday, calling on friends and looking after business matters. Mr. Landrum has been living in Ohio county for the past year or so, but has purchased the farm of B. V. Eidson on the Grayson side, and is now a resident of this county. Mr. Landrum is a splendid citizen and we extend him the glad hand.

The County Judge refused to grant merchant's license Monday to the applicants at Ready, near Caneyville. A petition with nearly fifty per cent of the voters had been filed in the Court, asking for a local option election, and under the ruling of the court in similar cases, the license was refused. Judge Rogers has uniformly refused to grant license in districts where local option elections were pending.

Meers, G. W. Stone and son, Stuart B. Stone, have made arrangements to establish a newspaper at Tallapoosa, Indian Territory, and will leave for their field of labor about May 1. Chas. McCleure, who has been associated with them in the publication of the Grayson Leader, will also go with them to Tallapoosa. They will continue the publication of the Leader for several weeks yet. We have not learned who will succeed them here.

Wife Enjoined From Making Love to Her Husband.
TOLEDO, Ohio, April 4.—Daisy W. Gerold was enjoined by an order of Judge Tyler in the Common Pleas Court from making love to her husband, from whom she is separated.

The couple were married in St. Louis in November, 1892, but Gerold says the wife abandoned him the next August. There has been considerable trouble in the Courts about alimony for the woman.

The husband asked the Court for an injunction to enjoin her from calling him up by the phone, following him, holding him in public, "hectoring him, pestering him and hindering him." He says she is assiduously making love to him.

Will Move a Church Six Miles.
The Owensboro Messenger says: What is probably one of the most unique occurrences in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church, is about to take place at Yelvington, this county. The beautiful church building belonging to that denomination is to be moved bodily to Powers, a village six miles distant.

The decision to do this was reached when a meeting of the congregation was held last Sunday. The majority of the members live at Powers, and it was at the request of them that the action was decided upon. This church is one of the prettiest in the county, although rather small. Its members compose the richest farmers of the neighborhood. The majority of its members have been settling near Powers during the past two years. They did not feel as if they could afford to erect a new building, and after much deliberation the peculiar request was made.

Work will commence removing the building immediately. The cost will be about $1,000. There will be no change in membership or ministers in consequence of the move.
